Tuesday evening last Miss Grace Warren entertained at "The Pines." the suburban home of her sister, Mrs. Lillie Oburn, near Independence. The affair was complimentary to Miss Mary McClellan, of St. Paul, who was the guest of Mrs. Paul Covington, of Hyde park. The feature of the evening was cards. The house was decorated very tastefully with pine and smillax, and the merry company of guests from the city found the pleasurable ride on the electric cars only heightened the social enjoyment of the evening which followed. About thirty guests were present.

Mrs. Christian Ott, of Independence, gave Mrs. Christian Ott, of Independence, gave a charming red and white luncheon at her home on North Main street, last Thursday, entertaining the Afternoon Card Club and other guests, including a number from Kansas City. Red and white carnations decorated the table and served as fragrant souvenirs. The same colors appeared in the cakes and ices. After luncheon the guests spent a couple of hours at cards most enjoyably. Thirty guests and club members were present.

The E. O. T. Club spent its weekly evening at high five with Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Surface, the prizes being won by Mrs. James Moore and Mrs. J. C. Tillhof, Mr. Ernest Egelhoff and Mr. J. The multitudinous Lenten duties of materiamillas seem to include the entertaining of the small friends of the children. At all events, no sooner is there a cessation of the social campaign among the elders than the children come to the fore with miniature dances and luncheons, and even directs. Among the prettiest of these parties arranged for the past week was the dancing party given on Thursday evening by Mrs. H. D. Cutler for her young daughter. Margaret, which was a cotilion in miniature, with dainty ribbon favors. The cotilion was preceded by a peanut hunt, which was the source of great amusement, and of two pretty prizes won by Miss Katharine Hewe and Master Roy Brinkman. Miss Frank Parr led the cotilion, which was followed by general dancing. The participants were: Miss Margaret Tyler, Mattie Thayer, Edith Shepard, Lucia Ford, Julia Aldrich, Harriet Young, Olive Jacques, Loatta Durkee, Margaret Sells, Hattle Mulford, Katharine George, Bessie and Lucia Byrne, Elsa and Laura Reed, Adalina Richards, Cella Abernathy, May Carson, Helen Mohr, Helen Brinkman, Janette McCrum, Katharine and Dorothy Lyle, Lucy Griffith, Masters Henry Thayer, Carrol Hunt, Wesley Hooper, Irving Hirsh, Jeddie Durkee, Jennie Austin, Ralph and Arthur Byrnes, Tom Reed, Ray Brinkman, Comingo Griffith, Tom Ore, Tom Velle, List Peppard, John and Lawrence Blodgett, Nerman Lombard, Logan Clendening.

About seventy of the members of the Foreign Missionary Society of the Independence Avenue M. E. church surprised Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Beal at their home on Maple avenue last evening, bringing flowers and plenty of goodies to satisfy the inner man. The occasion was the silver anniversary of the host and hostess, and later in the evening Mrs. George W. Fuller, in behalf of the society, presented them with a dozen handsome silver teaspoons. Mrs. Fuller's presentation speech avowed that whether the bride and groom of twenty-five years were a "spooney" couple or not, the friends gathered there were, hence the appropriateness of the gift. A mandolin club composed of Mr. Fred Traber, Mr. J. Tappan, Mr. G. Stuckenberg and Mr. A. Samuels furnished fine music.

On Friday evening the loyal ladies of McPherson Women's Relief Corps presented McPherson post, G. A. R., with a handsome bunting flag, fully eighteen feet in length, the presentation being a complete surprise to the post. Mrs. Dr. Wheeler, in a most happy speech, presented the flag, and Post Commander James Croscon responded appropriately. After the singing of the pational airs and several speeches, the ladies served a dainty luncheon, in which the colors of the flag largely predominated, thus closing an evening memorable in the annals of the post and corps.

been long enough for you to find it out?
A nice bright boy you are!"
"Was that a cent you gave me, boss?"
"To be sure; it was one of the new ones just out. Come, hand it over."
"I owe you just a cent, then, do I?" and the office boy whistled softly. "One of the new ones just from the mint. Well, hera you are; but, say, if you've got any more of them Pompelian coins just let me trade em, will you?"
"My pocket piece!" exclaimed the clerk, and fishing down into his pocket he brought up the offending penny. "Here, you! Come back!"

But the boy had disappeared down the stairs.

"In what way?"
"They give children a chance to pick their parents up on geography." She Wanted One.

"All right. Come, hand over the penny."
"The penny?" inquired the boy.
"Yes, yes: the cent—the new cent I handed you, of course; hasn't half an hour
